I used to be tethered to my desk, working long hours right into the weekends sometimes, and rarely taking any vacations.

But now I make my own hours. I work when I want to and take time off when I feel like it.

That is what being an entrepreneur brings and... anyone can do it because I truly believe we all have the entrepreneurial spirit in us, it is just that in a lot of cases, it is dormant.

Time to awaken the entrepreneur within!

So what does it take to become a successful entrepreneur? Let's look at the essential principles:

Self-Actualization: Becoming your highest potential self. Fully embodying and expressing who you were meant to become.

Profound Service: Making a profound positive difference for your clients and the world. Finding and living your soul's purpose - your personal mission that you are uniquely designed for.

Enjoying the Journey: Having the time, spaciousness, and support you need to fully enjoy your life right now. This includes great health and energy, satisfying relationships, and plenty of adventure.

Financial Prosperity: Having enough money to thrive, to live life on your terms, and to give generously to the people and causes that you care about most.

Let's look at each principle in detail.

When you're experiencing a high level of fulfillment in all four areas at once, your life is simply spectacular and DEEPLY satisfying.

Imagine this wheel rolling down the road to your vision. The ride would be smooth, and delightful.

But most ideas of success are severely limited.

Here's a visual representation of the prevailing mindset.

Imagine this wheel rolling down the road. It would be a very bumpy ride.

Most ideas of success emphasize making a lot of money.

There's nothing wrong with making a lot of money, but if this is your primary goal, and this is all you focus on, you'll feel hollow at the end of the day, regardless of how much money you earn.

Yet this is still the prevailing mindset...

Even the "conscious business community" still measures success primarily by the size of your business or by how much revenue your business generates.

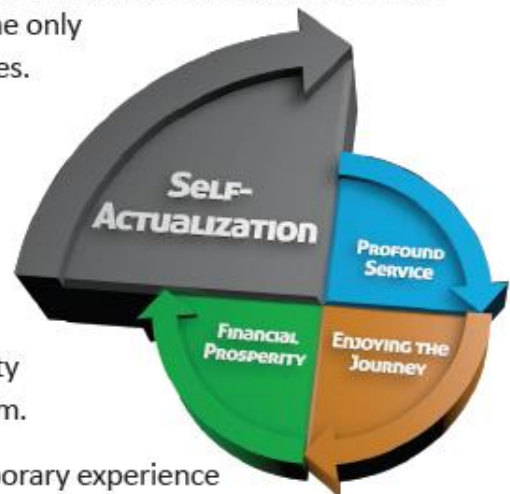

On the other side, many good-hearted people who are driven by a strong calling to be of service define success more like this.

These are the starving activists among us who struggle to eke out a living and to create a life they love because they made success only about serving others.

Then you have the personal growth enthusiasts and the meditators among us who have made self-actualization the only important thing in their lives.

They attend workshop after workshop, but never come close to true self-actualization because they've under-prioritized the rest of wheel.

Finally, you have the pleasure-seekers who chase a never ending series of experiences, endlessly hoping the next exciting novelty will finally satisfy them.

Of course, no temporary experience ever provides the lasting fulfillment they desire.

My point is that you're destined for greatness.

Nothing less than complete "Revolutionary Success" will satisfy you!

If you achieve ONLY 1, 2, or even 3 of these forms of success, you'll go to your grave feeling like something was still missing.

On the other hand, if you redefine success and take this journey with me, your life will never be the same.

Just imagine for a minute, how amazing your life would be if you were reaching your potential in all 4 essential areas.

Just imagine how deeply satisfied you would feel.

This really is possible for you, and don't ever let anyone tell you otherwise!

When you get there, not only will your life feel like a work of art, you'll be an inspiration to everyone you love.

You need a complete and integrated system that empowers you so you know exactly what to prioritize, and what to focus on, and in what order, so that you can produce maximum results with the least amount of time and effort.

The best way to ensure you obtain the education you require to master these principles is to find successful entrepreneurs and then learn from them.

This is exactly what I did when I decided to leave a 27 year long corporate career in search of my life purpose and a life of personal and financial freedom.

All it took was a decision to do it, get the education, sharpen my skills then, to take action and it all fell into place.

You can do the same.

TIPS FOR ASPIRING ENTREPRENEURS

Learn from others' failures. Rather than admiring the small percentage of businesses that grow to become successful, study those that end up failing.

Make sure this is what you want. Because entrepreneurship entails so much hard work, it is critical to ensure you're following the right path.

Solve problems. Entrepreneurs should always be in search of problems to solve, and not the other way around.

Be passionate. Successful entrepreneurs are driven primarily by a need for achievement and the desire to make a meaningful difference.

Get advice from those who have done it. Find a mentor who is willing to share his knowledge with you so that you can use it to create your own personal and financial freedom. Be sure to pick a proven, successful entrepreneur who resonates with you and will support you in your growth.
